White Wines

82. Chablis Grand Cru 'Les Clos', 2010 Domaine Pinson, Burgundy, France £65.00

A grand Cru Chablis is the very pinnacle of great Chablis and Les Clos is recognised as being one of the best grand cru sites. Pinson holds the largest single plot in Les Clos. Just as the 1er Crus are one step up from the Chablis Villages so this wine is up several notches again. With Pinson's Les Clos you get richness of fruit without too much fatness. Laurent is not looking to disguise the inherent concentration and ripeness in his wines by exposing them to too much oak. Oak is there but in a supporting role where it provides a framework in which to display the essence which is the wine.

83. Chassagne-Montrachet 1^{er} Cru 'Les Caillerets', 2010 Domaine J.M. Morey, Burgundy, France £69.50

After a run of tragedies in the early 1990's, Jean-Marc, now ably assisted by his daughter, Caroline, has re-emerged as one of the leading lights in the village of Chassagne. Using only indigenous yeasts for the fermentation, maximum lees-contact prior to the first racking, 15% new oak casks and, above all, early bottling in September, this father and daughter team have managed to achieve a range of whites that exhibit a purity of rich fruit (coupled with a mouth-tingling freshness) that is rare to find. Les Caillerets is always one of Jean-Marc Morey's most intensely concentrated 1er Cru wines and this vintage shows enormous structure, perfect balance and a seamless, unending finish that make it a true classic.

84. Côte-Rôtie, 2001 Domaine Gallet, Boucharey, Ampuis, Rhône, France £77.00

 The vineyards of Domaine Gallet have been in the family since 1807 when they moved to Boucharey, and is now in the hands of the sixth generation, who look after 3 hectares on the sought-after slopes of the Cote Brune and Cote Blonde. Henri employs a very traditional vinification with no destemming or filtering and the addition of a little Viognier in the assemblage. From the great 2001 vintage, this wine is supple and sweet but well-focussed. Explosive floral and red berry aromas are deepened by notes of cocoa, cola and tobacco. On the palate, pure, bright strawberry and raspberry flavours carry right through to the long finish with impressive energy.

85. Château d'Angludet, 2001 Margaux, Bordeaux, France £92.00

 The wine estate of Château Angludet belongs to the Sichel family, wine merchants in Bordeaux for six generations. Situated in the Médoc on gravel deposits from the Garonne, and bordered by the Grand Cru estates of Chateau de Tertre Chateau Giscours and Chateau Brane Cantenac, the estate produces a Cru Bourgeois Exceptionnel under the Margaux appellation, which is often put on a par with a Grand Cru Classé in terms of quality. The estate produces elegant wines with rich fruit and great aromatic finesse. The 2001 features rich dark berries and plums on the nose with notes of tar and cedar wood. The palate is dense, silky and elegant with incredible finesse and complexity, and ripe, supple, well-integrated tannins.
